

Introduction to Southwest Studies (SBS 300) - Fall 2024

Dr. Robin Reineke | reineke@arizona.edu

no prerequisites & no lab

TuTh 2:00PM - 3:15PM

Get introduced to the physical and cultural landscapes of the US Southwest and Northwest Mexico through:

- Archaeological evidence of ancient Arizona history
- Histories of interactions between Indigenous, Hispanic, and Euroamerican peoples
- Modern multicultural understandings of space, place, and identity
- Interactions with plants, landscapes, food, films, and the region's material culture
- Visits to local archaeological and historical sites, gardens, and events
- Multivocal narratives of habitation in the region

Special Features:

- Field trips
- Hands on learning
- Tasty food
- Interdisciplinary approaches
- Learning about the place where you live

